Profile of the Trainer

Ms. Kavita Kapoor is a fourth generation army daughter and with rules and regulations in her genes she feels her training in appropriate behavior and good manners began perhaps even before she was born. Kavita took a sabbatical after she attained a BSL, LLB and then her LLM with criminology from the Pune University to dabble with dramatics, theatre, modeling, advertising, commercials, television and cinema.

She was the face of and launched many high end products some of which are - The Erickson mobile phone – a commercial which won her many accolades and a silver lion in Cannes, the Cielo car, the first ever De Beers diamond commercial in India, Whirlpool refrigerators, Videocon and innumerable other commercials.

She also played a leading role in some landmark serials of Indian television like Saans on Star plus, Just Mohabbat on Sony TV, Kittie party, Aashirwaad and Yes Boss on Sab TV, which has been the longest running comedy show on Indian television.

Kavita has hands on experience in grooming, make up and make-overs which now is second nature for her after being a part of media for approximately 20 years. She decided to add another dimension to her life by learning to be a trainer under the aegis of one of India's best corporate trainers, Ms. Suneeta Kanga and training people in grooming, etiquette and fine dining. She dreams of a country full of well mannered and well groomed people who can hold their own anywhere in the world and is looking forward to have the opportunity to add some value to people's lives.
