

Accessories

Overview:

The accessories we carry with us makes a statement about our style and our status. At the same time, we as professionals have to ensure that these accessories are helpful and not just jewelry for display.

A right mix of style and usefulness can bring out the best in us, and thus improve our professional and social lives. Wouldn't it be nice that an expert from the field tells us what's in and what's not? This session deals with knowing the brands, their products, the subtleness or loudness of a particular accessory, and such other topics. Now, do you need an invitation to come out with your shopping bags?
